

OFFICIALS AWAIT ELECTION OUTCOME

Result of Mexican Election Today Is Awaited With Keen Interest by Washington Officials

SUMMONED TO MEXICO CITY

General Huerta's Summoning of Diaz to Mexico City and the Capture of Monterrey by Rebels Enlivens Interest in Voting

FOREIGN POWERS TO CO-OPERATE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Official Washington tonight awaits with keen interest the outcome of tomorrow's elections in Mexico under supervision of the Huerta provisional government, recognition of which already has been denied by the American government.

Interest in the outcome was enlivened by the news of the fall of Monterrey into the hands of the rebel forces, the summoning by General Huerta to Mexico City of General Felix Diaz, one of the presidential candidates, and discussion of the reported determination of the Washington administration to notify foreign powers that any interference in Mexico would be regarded as an act unfriendly to the United States.

In the absence from Washington of President Wilson and Secretary Bryan the official government was silent but reports from Paris that foreign powers were exchanging views on a proposition to co-operate with this nation in some concerted Mexican policy following tomorrow's elections were received with marked interest in government departments.

Significance was attached to these despatches from abroad, coming on the heels of the reports from Washington that the president and secretary of state were at work on a statement which would define this nation's attitude and to the statement issued in Philadelphia by Senator Bacon, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, to the effect that the interests of the United States in Mexico are "indefinitely greater" than the other great powers.

It was the prevailing opinion that once the elections were over and the policy of the Huerta government for the future revealed that there might be found a ground for an international understanding in dealing with the perplexing situation. Though reports from Mexico indicated tonight that election day might precipitate some trouble in certain parts of the Mexican republic no despatches reached the state department which indicated any cause for unusual alarm and a few serious clashes were anticipated.

Manner Is Unknown.

Chief interest here in the elections is the manner in which the election returns will be handled and how the vote will be canvassed, in view of the overthrow by Huerta of the legislative body which is the legally constituted authority for review of the returns. It was because of the dissolution of congress and the arrest of its members that the Washington administration gave notice that it could not recognize tomorrow's election. Whether Huerta will appoint a special election board, turn the ballots over to the supreme court or permit them to be reviewed by congress shown to have been chosen on the face of the returns, is not known here.

Will Not Recognize Result.

Whatever method is resorted to, it was pointed out, would have no effect upon the determination of this government not to recognize the result. Plans were being tonight for the state department to keep in communication with Mexican points tomorrow as closely as possible. Secretary Bryan returned late tonight to be at his office Sunday. Owing to the demoralized condition of the sources of communication in Mexico there was no expectation here that any definite news of the election would be known for many days. Returns, it was pointed out, eventually might show a majority for no candidate. In this contingency there has been discussed the possibility that General Huerta would still hold the reins of power, a new legislature might be proclaimed and Huerta agains chosen provisional president.

Rebels Capture Monterrey.

Numerous private advices reached Washington tonight confirming the fall of Monterrey to the revolutionists and this, it was believed, would have the effect of encouraging the revolting forces in other sections of the republic. Other advices told of several attacks upon plantation towns in the vicinity of San Luis Potosi by revolutionists. In this vicinity the federal military operations were reported as not very effective.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH CONVENTION CLOSES

HOPELESSLY DEADLOCKED ON TWO IMPORTANT RESOLUTIONS

House of Bishops and House of Deputies Are Deadlocked on Proposal To Establish Separate Bishopric For Negroes in South and on Proposed Change in Good Friday Collect.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The general convention 1913 of the Protestant Episcopal church passed into history this afternoon in hopeless deadlock on two important resolutions with the most far-reaching topic of legislation before it unconsciously by one house because of an error in the other and with a positive refusal to consider a request of the Women's Christian Temperance Union that unfermented grape juice be substituted for wine in the communion services. On the proposal to establish a separate bishopric for negroes in the south and on the proposed elimination of the words "Jews, Turks, Infidels and Heretics" from the Good Friday collect, the house of bishops and the house of deputies were deadlocked. On the proposal to require a two thirds vote to change the name of the church, adopted by the deputies the bishops refused to act because the resolution was sent to them only yesterday while it was adopted by the lower house more than two weeks ago.

For two weeks the draft of this radical measure lay at the bottom of a pile of waste paper on the secretary's desk. Its presence there was not detected until yesterday. In the entire membership of the house of deputies not one man dreamed that the resolution was not before the bishops for action.

"I assume full blame for the trouble," announced the assistant secretary, the Rev. Carroll M. Davis, dean of Trinity Cathedral, St. Louis. "It was my business to see that this resolution was sent to the bishops. I thought it had been sent. I was astounded to find it on my desk yesterday and sent it over at once to the other house."

The bishops, however, declined to consider the measure in the few remaining hours of the convention. They "did not" notice the resolution. A committee of deputies was then appointed by the chairman to request the bishops to take the matter up, nevertheless.

This committee later reported that the bishops declined to take any action in the matter in the late hour. The deputies then hurried through a resolution for a joint commission to consider the proposition and reported at the next convention and in this the house of bishops concurred at the last moment. The commission is to consist of five bishops, five presbyters and five laymen.

WILL GIVE PLAYS.

The Y. W. C. A. of the Woman's college is preparing to present a play, a play, two small missionary plays, Monday night at 8 o'clock at the college. There is no admission and the public is cordially invited. Tea will be served after the entertainment.

3,500 MEN.

The federalists defending the city numbered 2,000. The first skirmish was apparently at Morales, twenty miles from Monterrey, on October 15. That same day cannonading began about city. Early in the fighting the constitutionalists divided, part of them rushing Monterrey from the west and part from the east, one division getting into the city over the lines of the international railway while the other captured San Luisito, a suburb.

A Murderous Artillery Fire.

was said to have been poured across the city, killing or wounding many persons and destroying millions of dollars worth of property. Although reports did not specify, it seems that this big gun fire came from both sides. Captain Servo de la Garza, constitutionalist, wounded Morelos, who arrived in Matamoros today, said that the constitutionalist besiegers had only three machine guns.

Fall of City Confirmed.

El Paso, Oct. 25.—Confirmation of the fall of Monterrey was received today by the rebel junta here in dispatches. The city was surrendered at noon Friday after desperate street fighting in which the federalists were constantly driven back. The same dispatches say that federal Generals Maas and Telles, with their joint forces who were hurrying to the relief of Monterrey were defeated after a severe battle at Lajitas, by Augustin Castro.

Private Despatches to Adherents.

of the Madero family also tell of the fall of Monterrey.

CONGREGATIONALISTS ACCEPT NEW DOCTRINE

COUNCIL ACCEPTS CONSTITUTION FRAMED BY COMMITTEE OF NINETEEN

New Document Provides for Election of a General Secretary, Brings the Church Societies Under the Control of the National Council and Changes Time of Holding Council Meetings.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 25.—Congregationalism, united and aggressive, as represented in its national council worked out its difficulties today, brushed its instruments for extending its domain in the religious field and struck off the shackles that had bound it to an antiquated institution adopted almost a half century ago when the council accepted practically unanimously a constitution framed by a commission of nineteen. The final vote was 542 to 1.

The document contains a new statement of doctrine, provides for the election of a general secretary with advisory powers towards the congregational churches of the country, brings the church societies, eight in number, under control of the national council and changes the time of holding council meetings from every three years to every two years.

Although many members strenuously objected during the debate to a number of sections of the new instrument, especially those of the bringing of the church societies under control of the commission of missions a newly created body, they accepted defeat gracefully and the word of the majority quietly became the will of the minority. When the final vote was taken one dissenting vote was cast. Robert Short, a layman of Seward, Ill., was the lone objector. "The concentration of the missionary societies under the national council's control did not please him."

"I, perhaps, am just an old fogey," said he after the council adjourned, "but it was my conviction to give the council control of the missionaries, which are incorporated bodies would be unjust. I would have voted against the constitution containing such provisions whether the vote was large or small. It makes no difference to me that I am the 'old fogey'." I simply recorded my convictions and I believe the convictions of the Rockford association which I represent here."

Mr. Short is Deacon in his home church.

Probably the strongest discussion was met when the statement of doctrine was brought up. President Charles H. Blanchard of Wheaton College, Illinois, one of the leaders of the conservative faction of the council, met with a rebuke when he suggested that the word "power" be added to the phrase "God, the father, infinite in wisdom, goodness and love."

The sentiment of most of the delegates who spoke on the question was that the belief in the "power" of the "almighty" was sufficient, conceded by all of them that it did not require an expressed statement.

In the further discussion on doctrine Rev. C. L. Morgan of Elgin, Ill., asked that the phrase "and rose again" be changed to "rose from the dead."

His suggestion was rejected. Further discussion of the new statement of doctrine elicited a statement from Rev. Newman Smythe of New Haven, Conn.

"The new statement," said he, "is in simple language so that any man, even if he is not a lawyer, can understand it. We hereby assert that we have a faith we are not afraid to own. In spirit of liberty in love of Christ if we shall hold to these standards as we are making on, we shall never fail to claim our apostolic succession in the faith of the Holy Catholic church."

One of the solemn moments of the council was just before the vote was taken on the adoption of the constitution. In a voice shaking with emotion Dr. Nehemiah Boynton of Brooklyn, N. Y., former moderator asked permission to address the delegates.

"We are about to enter," he said, "into one of those moments of the highest historic interest. We believe we approach a highly desired consummation. We wish to follow the direction of our God. We wish our church to be spiritually efficient. We have been prodigal of our religious forces, we must conserve them. We must have the fires of consecration burning anew in our veins. March separately but strike together."

WILSON SPEAKS AT SWARTHMORE

In Extolling Spirit of William Penn the President Touches on Present Day Problems

IS AGAINST DICTATORSHIP

Asserts No Government on Western Hemisphere Can Endure Which Is Stained by Blood or Not Supported by the People

SPEAKS OF COLLEGE IDEALS

SWARTHMORE, Pa., Oct. 25.—President Wilson in a speech here today proclaimed the doctrine that the whole western hemisphere should be devoted to one sacred purpose—that nowhere can any government endure which is stained by blood or supported by anything but the consent of the governed.

It was extolling the spirit with which William Penn sought to establish a "free commonwealth" in America that he incidentally revealed his thoughts on present day problems. His utterances, it is known, reflect the ideas which the Washington administration is preparing to announce to the nations of the world in a formal note on the policy of the United States and Mexico.

"I would not be interested," the president said, "in celebrating the memory of William Penn if his conquest had been merely a material one. Some time we have been laughed at by foreigners in particular for boasting of the size of the American continent and the size of our own domain as a nation for they have naturally suggested that we did not make it. But I claim that every race and every man is as big as the thing he takes possession of and that the size of America is in some sense a standard of the size and capacity of the American people, but the extent of the American continent is not what gives America distinction in the annals of the world. It is the professed purpose of the conquest which was to see to it that every foot of that land should be the home of a free, self-governed people, who should have no government whatever that did not rest upon the consent of the governed. I would like to believe that all of this hemisphere is devoted to the same sacred purpose and that nowhere can any government endure which is stained by blood or supported by anything but the consent of the governed."

"And the spirit of Penn will not be stayed. You cannot extend limits to such knightly adventures. After their own day is gone, their spirits stalk the world, carrying in spirit everywhere they go and in the beginning of the lineage the fine lineage of those who have sought justice and the right."

Speaks of College Ideals.

The president spoke of college ideals and how to attain them. "A man ought never to forget that a college is a nursery of principle and of honor."

"It seems to me that there is no great difference between the ideals of the college and the ideals of the state. Can you not translate the one into the other? Men have not had to come to college, let me remind you, to quaff the fountains of inspiration. You are merely more privileged than they. Men out of every walk of life, men without advantages of any kind have seen the vision and you, with it written large upon every page of your study are the more blind if you do not see it, when it is pointed out. You could be forgiven for overlooking it. They might have been, but they did not await instruction. They simply drew the breath of life into their lungs, felt the aspirations that must come to every human soul looked out on their brothers and felt their pulses beat as their fellows beat and then sought by counsel and action to march forward to common ends that would be crowned with honor and achievement. This is the only glory of America."

ATLANTIC FLEET SAILS FOR MEDITERRANEAN

DREADNAUGHTS BEAR GREETINGS OF THE NEW WORLD TO THE OLD

In Battle Formation the Ponderous Battle Ships Creep Past Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt in the Dolphin and Are Away on Cruise to the Mediterranean.

HAMPTON ROADS, Oct. 25.—Bearing the greetings of the new world to the old, nine dreadnaughts of the Atlantic fleet started today on their way from Hampton Roads to the Mediterranean. The sombre garbed war machines carrying thousands of American men received the final nod of farewell from the Dolphin bearing Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt and sailed out slowly between the protecting capes into the open sea. As the creeping gray forms melted into the shadows of the horizon the wireless flashed the last word from the assistant secretary, acting as representative of the president, commander-in-chief of the navy.

"In sending you as representatives of the United States navy of today we hope to show to the old world that the achievements and traditions of past are being sustained and carried forward to a still more splendid future. Good luck and Godspeed."

Thus read the final benediction and scarcely had it left the aerials when back came the reply of Rear Admiral Badger, in command of the fleet.

"The fleet thanks you for your parting words and will do its utmost to reflect honor upon the country and the service."

In battle formation the ponderous gray shapes slid by the Dolphin laying to just inside the capes. Straight down the channel they crept, the crew of each lining up the rail at quarters, marines and bands on parade. First came the mammoth Wyoming. Two ship lengths behind was the Arkansas. Then followed the Utah, Florida, Delaware, Kansas, Vermont and Ohio. In their wake signalling "engine trouble" limped the Connecticut. A few miles out awaited the supply ships and colliers with the hospital ship Solace which had steamed out of the roads ahead of the formal review. The fleet headed to open sea after a day of leave taking and naval ceremonial.

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt kept the fleet in the Dolphin reached the roads in the early morning. Shortly after the yacht was given its salute by the flagships. Mr. Roosevelt received the rear-admirals in his cabin with the full ceremonial of naval visits at sea. Later the assistant secretary returned the visit.

After the ceremonies the Dolphin dropped down the roads to a position just inside Cape Henry. On the way down Secretary Roosevelt and Secretary Breckinridge kept the fleet in sight by climbing the rope ladder to the crow's nest at the head of the main mast. After the party on the Dolphin had watched the fleet out to sea they returned to Fort Monroe and Mr. Breckinridge led a trip of inspection through the great coast artillery post. The Dolphin left the roads tonight for Washington.

BANK EXAMINER FOR RESTRICTIONS

National Bank Examiner for New York Recommends Restrictions Upon Nat'l Banks

QUIZZED BY THE COMMITTEE

Charles Starek Recommends Modifications of Banking Laws Restricting National Banks Engaging in Underwriting Profits

TESTIFIES AT HIS OWN REQUEST

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Restrictions upon the rights of national banks to engage in the underwriting of commercial or industrial syndicates of re-organization were recommended to the senate banking and currency committee today by Charles Starek, national bank examiner for New York City. Mr. Starek's suggestions were made in response to questions by members of the committee who examined him for more than an hour behind closed doors in relation to certain features of national bank operation. Mr. Starek went with some detail into the extent to which the great New York banks engage in the underwriting of large projects and recommended several modifications of the banking laws that would restrict such activity. The relation of the National City Bank to the underwriting of the $14,000,000 loan obtained by the Chicago Consolidated railways company sometime ago was touched on during the hearing but the committee did not go into the subject because of the investigation of the matter that is being conducted under the direction of Assistant Secretary Williams of the treasury department.

The New York examiner appeared because of testimony by F. A. Vandenberg committee at his own request. Vandenberg, president of the National City Bank, which indicated that the examiner's income from fees amounted to more than $20,000 a year. Mr. Starek said that his gross receipts from fees was about $45,000 a year and that he paid out over half of this sum for salaries of assistants who helped him in the work.

The hearing of the senate banking and currency committee on the Glass-Owen currency bill came to an end tonight and the committee revision of the bill will begin behind closed doors Monday.

Members of the committee would not predict tonight what length of time would be required to complete the measure and prepare a report for the senate. A number of experts on various phases of banking operations, particularly the handling of domestic and foreign exchange will be consulted by the committee during the progress of its work on the bill.

The treasury department tonight issued the finally revised regulations for deduction of the new income tax at the source on interest maturing on bonds, notes and similar obligations of corporations, joint stock companies or associations and insurance companies classified by the department under the general term of "debtor" for the collection purposes.

A tax of one per cent will be deducted at the source beginning next Saturday from all incomes accruing and payable to every United States citizen or to every person residing in or to every person residing in the United States, though not a citizen whose income may be derived from interest on bonds and mortgages or deeds of trust or other similar obligations.

All persons, firms or corporations undertaking for accommodation the collection of coupons or bills of exchange for payment of interest or dividends upon foreign obligations must obtain a license from the internal revenue commissioner and give bond.

Failure to obtain license or comply with the regulations is made punishable by a $5,000 maximum fine or one year maximum imprisonment or both. There are several penalties for knowingly making false statements or misrepresentations to obtain any allowance or reduction for himself or any other persons.

ILLINOIS WON IN FAST FINISH

SCORE TWICE IN LAST FIVE MINUTES OF PLAY.

Bradley Polytechnic Taken into Camp by Score of 14 to 10—Blue and White Come Back Strong in Last Quarter, Gary, Frisbee and Alford Being the Stars—Wilson Gives Exhibition of Great Tackling.

Making fourteen points in less than three minutes, in one of the most spectacular endings to a stubborn fought football game ever witnessed on a local gridiron, Bradley Polytechnic Institute eleven of Peoria went down to defeat before Illinois college yesterday after seemingly having the game sewed up to the tune of 10 to 0. Five minutes before the whistle blew for the game to end Alford was shot over the line for a touchdown and two minutes later Gary handed a fifteen yard pass to Frisbee, who displayed remarkable head work in evading his opponents, shooting down the field like an arrow for a touchdown, covering the distance of 45 yards.

Bradley scored in the second quarter when Allen got away for a long run round Illinois' left end and again in the third quarter when Allen kicked goal from the 30 yard line. Rex Gary, that little, short, brainy, peppery, foxlike sub-quarter, whom Coach Harmon sent in to replace Stewart at the end of the third quarter, gave the team such a hypodermic injection, and the visitors such a stage fright that defeat turned into victory for Old Illinois. Wilson's terrific tackling throughout the entire game was a feature and if it had not been for his remarkable work in the first quarter Bradley would have probably scored on three or four different occasions.

Illinois had hard work getting together in the first half of the game and Bradley outplayed them in several points. Illinois did not hit their stride until the contest was about over and the way they held the Bradley bunch and their offensive work showed that the white and blue could do when they once got together. Gary got wise to the weakness of Bradley's left side and it kept Coach Martin busy sending in men to strengthen that side. Bradley, too, became unsteady when Illinois began to use the forward pass often. Alford was in the game all the time, his strength developing as the game progressed.

In Allen Bradley has a star man, almost making their team a one man aggregation. He weighs about 200 pounds and his experience makes him a tough proposition to handle. Struach also did some splendid work for the visitors. Illinois deserved special mention for the defensive work, time and time again forcing Bradley to kick. It is safe to predict had Illinois gained her stride earlier there would have been no "anxious moments" at any stage of the bitterly fought battle.

First Quarter.

Illinois won the toss up and Bradley received the kick, defending the east goal. Illinois kicked to Bradley's 30 yard line. On the first play Bradley gained 12 yards on an end run. Next two plays, however, were throw for a loss of 8 yards by Frisbee and Wilson. Bradley was forced to kick and the Illinois man was downed almost in his tracks. Illinois made their downs once and in completed forward pass forced them to kick. Stewart punted to Allen on the 10 yard line and he returned 10 yards. Bradley could not gain and were forced to kick to the middle of the field. Stewart returning the ball 10 yards. Four plays netting 20 yards placed the ball on the 25 yard line, from which Stewart attempted a drop kick, but it was wide. Bradley kicked out and again Illinois brought the ball back. Stewart attempted a place kick, but it was low, Bradley putting the ball in play on their own 20 yard line, was not able to gain and kicked to Illinois' 15 yard line. The remainder of the first quarter resulting in a kicking duel, with honors about even.

Second Quarter.

Shortly after the opening of the second quarter Illinois was forced to kick and Stewart punted to Marshall, who returned the ball 50 yards, to Illinois' 20 yard line. Three plays netted but six yards and Bradley attempted to drop kick. It was blocked and Bradley recovered the ball on Illinois' 32 yard line. Bradley then started an end run with Allen in possession of the oval and eluding several of the Illinois tacklers he crossed the goal line for the first score of the game. Allen kicked goal, making the score 7 to 0. Allen kicked to Wilson on Illinois' 15 yard line and he returned the ball 14 yards. Two end runs and a forward pass netted four yards and Stewart kicked to Bradley's 30 yard line. Bradley returned the kick to Illinois, who then began a series of line plunges and end runs, which netted 25 yards. An unfortunate fumble lost the ball to Bradley on Bradley's 20 yard line. The remainder of the quarter was consumed in exchanges of punts. Score 7 to 0.

Third Quarter.

Bradley kicked off to Wilson who returned the ball to Illinois' 30 yard line. Bradley intercepted a forward pass on Illinois' 30 yard line. The visitors were unable to gain, and kicked to Alford on Illinois' 22 yard line. The blue and white then gave an exhibition of how the game should be played. End runs, forward passes and line plunges carried the ball far into Bradley's territory. Here the visitors' defense stiffened and they held for downs. Allen immediately punted to Illinois' 19 yard line. Stewart returned the ball 20 yards. Alford and Wilson gained 5 yards each, but a penalty of 15 yards forced the locals to kick. Bradley tried two plays which gained but 2 yards and then they punted to Wilson on Illinois' 30 yard line and he returned 10 yards. Stewart gained 5 yards on an off tackle play, but the ball was fumbled on the next attempt. Illinois recovered the oval. At this point Gary relieved Stewart at quarter. Then Russell kicked to Allen on Bradley's 38 yard line. Two tackle plays gained 10 yards and a long pass Struach to Jaeger brought the ball to Illinois' 25 yard line. Bradley could not gain and Allen dropped back and kicked a field goal from the 35 yard line, making the score 14 to 0. This ended the third quarter.

Fourth Quarter.

In the fourth quarter Coach Martin of Bradley sent in Heins. Risburg went out. Heins went to quarter. Allen to full back, Marshall to half back. The visitors opened the play by kicking to the 15 yard line to Gary who brought the ball back to the 30 yard mark. Illinois gained 20 yards, but lost the ball on an difficulty in gaining and kicking to the blue and white's 25 yard line and Wilson returned 5 yards. Wilson made ten yards on an off tackle play and Bradley was penalized 15 yards for holding. At this point the rooters were brought to their feet by a long forward pass. Wilson to Gary, which gained 20 yards. A forward pass to Frisbee brought the ball to Bradley's 8 yard line. Amid the frantic cheers of the Illinois rooters Captain Alford of the two terrific plunges, carried the ball over for Illinois' first score. Gary punted out and Frisbee kicked goal. Score, Bradley, 19; Illinois, 7.

The visitors chose to receive and Frisbee kicked to their 30 yard line. Bradley returned the kick 8 yards. Allen kicked to Gary on Illinois' 22 yard line and he returned two yards. With less than three minutes left to play Gary gained 9 yards on an end run. Alford plunged through the line for two more, Wilson shot off tackle for seven yards. Then came the deciding play of the game. A criss cross drive ending into a forward pass of 15 yards, Gary to Frisbee, followed by a spectacular 25 yard run by Frisbee, scored Illinois' second touchdown and won the game Frisbee kicking goal. With but two minutes left to play Frisbee kicked off to Bradley's 25 yard line and the visitors returned the ball ten yards. Illinois being off side Frisbee was forced to kick over. He kicked to their 35 yard line and they returned 10 yards. Bradley, becoming desperate resorted to long passes, three in succession, all of which were broken up by the Illinois backs. Thereupon Bradley kicked to Gary on Illinois' 20 yard line and he returned 8 yards. Time was called. Score 14 to 10.

Automobile Robes

Time's come to go into winter quarters. It's blankets and comforts now instead of electric fans and fly swatters. But while the swatters and fans were their busiest, we were searching the market for the blankets and comforts you would need this winter. We found them. They are here now. We have good blankets, better blankets, best blankets; ditto comforts. There is no need to go into details and quote prices. All of you know what blankets and comforts look like without us drawing pictures of them--and if our prices weren't right, we couldn't hold the enormous trade we do. If you have never bought a blanket or comfort here, see how well we can please you with the ones you are to buy this winter.

JACKSONVILLE MEETS DEFEAT AT PEORIA

Football Clash Ends Disastrously
For Locals by Score of 27 to 0.

Jacksonville High school met a decisive defeat yesterday at Peoria against the Peoria High school, the score being 27 to 0. Jacksonville played in poor luck during the whole game, and the Peoria men proved strong both on the offensive and defensive. They made considerable gains through the use of the forward pass. Poor generalship on the part of Jacksonville when near goal accounted for their not being able to score. Killibrew played his usual star game for the locals and Berryman also played a consistent game. The team felt the loss of Capt. Haigh and Sutherland was not able to play his usual position at halfback. The J. H. S. men played spiritless and their tackling was decidedly off color and the line was far below usual strength. Peoria outweighed the locals by fifteen pounds.

Cleaning, Altering and Repairing

THE JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL Established 1813 Published by JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL CO.

An expert on municipal lighting has been in the city, it is said, and many await his report on technicalities, or details of approved systems. Every citizen should investigate a little bit, for one is hardly justified in abusing the powers that be for the wretched state of our streets at night. The latter is the easiest way, and there is plenty of provocation—it is a darkly dangerous undertaking to attempt a trip of one of two blocks to visit a neighbor these nights, and one that only the most courageous undertake.

There are many explanations given—every man has a different one—authorities say they are changing machinery and that lamps are giving out and cannot be repaired. Others say there are very good machinists in Jacksonville that would be glad to attempt a repair job and that the objectionable lack of illumination complained of could be avoided—that it is used principally to encourage the sale of lanterns, of which some of our merchants are overstocked, and incidentally to work up sentiment in favor of bond issue for the improvement of our electric lighting plant.

Now it is up to you to investigate on your own account. Do not accept, without due inquiry, either version. Even the ladies should visit the plant, inspect the dark streets, read up on the intricacies of the electric problem and be prepared to vote when the question comes up for the final O. K. of the people. The puzzle is almost as great as the deciphering of an ordinary gas bill.

Did you ever notice that when any great disaster visits a city where saloons are in operation, in time of flood or fire or riot, the mayor invariably orders all saloons closed. This very thing would happen in Jacksonville at such times even if saloons were open under the strictest kind of license. The reason is obvious, for every man knows way down in his heart that the saloon is a lawless institution, that it contributes nothing to the peace and well being of any community and that on the contrary instead of being a social center where the poor are always welcome, that it is the very breeding place of crime, of riot and bloodshed.

In Kewanee there are many saloons and they are said to be about the most strictly governed in the state of Illinois. The time was when saloons were scattered all about the city and as Kewanee has such a large proportion of foreigners in its population, who made the saloons their continual place of rendezvous, crimes of violence were committed almost daily. Foreigners of the class who work in steel mills are of excitable temperament and when whisky grips them, all control seems to go. So the authorities of Kewanee decided that if there must be saloons that the best plan would be to have them all grouped together in one square or block. And that's the way they are today.

A great iron fence is in the rear of all these liquor places. A man can enter any one of them by the front door and he may go from one saloon to the other by side entrances, but he cannot get out by a rear door. One policeman is constantly on duty patrolling this saloon territory and other officers are within easy reach. If any saloon customer is noticed getting into the first stages of intoxication he is cautioned to leave. If he persists in drinking, he is hustled off to jail.

Saloons all in a group, iron fence at the rear and a policeman in front, what more fitting recognition of the lawlessness of the saloon itself and of the crimes and misdemeanors to which it incites.

The Books of Books gives help and comfort to every one who with honest purpose searches its pages. Yet the searcher who seeks therein justification for the saloon or the liquor business has a hopeless task.

At a meeting of the Republican county committee Saturday there was a spirit of hopefulness expressed that was most encouraging. The Republican candidate for county commissioner, Peter Meggison, is one of our best known farmers, a man of the very highest reputation in every sense, one of the safe men in the affairs of the country. The position is one of importance, the three commissioners governing the business affairs of the county. The present commissioners are all members of one political party, Democratic, and Mr. Meggison's opponent on that ticket is a present incumbent who has served six years—being elected in our first local option campaign which in this precinct overshadowed all else. Do not fail to vote on county commissioner Nov. 4.

The ladies have a right to vote on the question of a wet or dry Jacksonville this year. It is the first chance they have had (in this city) to register their opinions in an effective way. It is a privilege, a right, a great majority will avail themselves of this year. And their vote leaves little doubt of the result—it will be "dry." For years women have been the sufferers from the evils attending excessive use of intoxicants by men. They have been forced to feel all of the wretchedness entailed by the drunkenness of husbands, of brothers, of near friends, silently and patiently in many cases. Even when they have seen children neglected, even when they have felt the pangs of hunger, when the income of husband has been handed over a bar counter in payment for the liquor that has made demons of men at other times loyal, women have toiled and slaved in silence and in misery, endeavored in every way to "keep up appearances" and feed and clothe children. All know of such cases. Fortunate have been the women who have escaped such troubles.

There is little doubt the vote of a very great majority of the women will be for a "dry" city, a cleaner, better city. They are to be trusted, not only on the questions to be voted on at his election, but in the future.

But just a word of caution. The ballot is a new broom—do not endeavor to wear it out in one day. And do not assume that every one who differs from you does so from an evil intent. They may be just as honest, just as true from their point of view as you. The time has not yet come, probably never will, when we can all see alike.

We differ honestly on the way to reach that straight and narrow path that leads to future happiness, although we may all meet, if we so desire and live, at the gateway to which the path leads.

We differ on questions of politics. The number of parties striving to save our country increases each year—Republicans, Democrats, Socialists, Prohibitionists, Progressives and a host of others—all sincere in their opinion that their's is the only way. Give each party credit for a desire to better the condition of the people of the entire country—a desire equalling your own, each from his own little point of view.

And in this election there may be some ladies who from environment, or education, or other reasons, may not care to exercise the right of suffrage, do not assume that they are absolutely wrong and, that you only are right.

The right to vote brings with it the duty of study—look well into the questions you may be called on to decide, and vote according to your own judgment, for your own good and the good of the city, state or nation. The right of suffrage is only a right to accept your share of the work of unraveling the problems of the government of all classes of people. The majority decides. The ballot is supposed to be a secret one—each to vote according to the dictates of his or her own conscience. Be tolerant with those who differ with you. The minority have rights as well as the majority. Be ready to justify your own vote and accord your neighbor the same right; in charity and justice and good feeling. Keep the broom clean and in good

The election in Mexico occurs today and there is almost a certainty that the returns are already prepared, so that there may be no long delay in the announcement of the result. Let us hope that the result may not involve the U. S. in a war. Huerta has been showing Uncle Sam his teeth—he may need the services of a first-class dentist.

FIGURES TELL THE STORY

When some man tries to tell you that there is more drunkenness and more disorder in Jacksonville without saloons than in the days of saloons just show him the following figures from the records of the police department. ### HOW A BROOKLYN GIRL

Got Strong and Well Again.

Grace D. Lamb of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I was run down and on the verge of nervous prostration. I could not sleep for pain in my back. In all I was a wreck. A friend told me what Vinol had done for her little girl, so I tried it. I noticed an improvement after the first bottle. I could sleep well, my appetite improved, and after taking three bottles I am strong and well again."

Vinol is the most efficient strength creator for such women. It is the medicinal elements of the cod's livers contained in Vinol added by the blood making and strengthening properties of tonic iron which makes it so far superior to all other tonics to build up health and strength for weak, tired, ailing women. It contains no oil and has a delicious taste.

We give back your money if Vinol does not do all that we claim—Lee P. Alcott, druggist, Jacksonville, Ill. P. S.—If you have any skin trouble try Saxo Salve. We guarantee it. (Adv.)

Nature's Remedies for Disease. Every fall in olden times the family medicine chest was replenished with roots, herbs and barks, nature's remedies for disease. Scullcap for nervousness, pennyroyal for colds, clover blossoms for the blood, thoroughwort for colds, wormwood and balm of Gilead buds for sprains, and so on. It is interesting to note that the most successful remedy for female ills the world has ever known had its origin nearly forty years ago from roots and herbs and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made today in immense quantities from these same roots and herbs with extreme accuracy, care and cleanliness. The standard remedy for female ills. (Adv.)

B. C. 3500

The first prescription was written on Egyptian stone 3500 B. C. and is now in the Metropolitan Museum, N. Y. City. The first prescription dispensed from our files was put up by Robert Hocken-hull, senior, in 1842, and can be seen in our east side store window, together with others of same and subsequent years, down to the present time; nearly 50,000 of them in all.

These 50,000 prescriptions represent the accumulation of 71 years' continuous business, and when you take into consideration that in the last 25 or 30 years all the physicians have been dispensing practically all their medicines from their offices, it shows a record of work that we are justly proud of, both for our predecessors as well as ourselves.

This is the day and age of specializing in most all the arts and sciences. We specialize in that of dispensing physicians' prescriptions, and call ourselves the Prescription Specialists. Our intimate knowledge of drugs enables us to personally direct the compounding of them; the supervision of the filling of your prescriptions assures you that no error will be committed in the selection of the proper and purest drugs. Absolute excellence is our standard. We will not tolerate substitution. Our label is a guarantee of quality and we give most careful attention to every article which leaves our stores.

In order to carry out our Specialty we have opened (as you probably know), a prescription room in the Ayers Building, No. 201, for the exclusive compounding of physicians' prescriptions and family recipes. Hours 9:30 to 11:30 morning; 2 to 5 afternoon. We cordially invite you to call in and see our Prescription room. East and West Side Stores of Coover & Shreve can supply all your drug wants. We guarantee you perfect satisfaction, and are ready to promptly deliver any telephone order or call for prescription and return it to you after it is prepared.

ILLINOIS VICTORIOUS IN FIERCE STRUGGLE WITH INDIANA U. ELEVEN

HOOSIERS SHOW LOSS OF CAPTAIN DAVIS IN THE DEFENSIVE WORK OF THE LINE

Indiana and Illinois Executives Witness Contest--Pogue Scores Touchdown In Third Period Followed In Fourth by Field Goal by Rowe--Pete Russell's Two Drop Kicks Score Only Points In Chicago-Purdue Game and Win Game for the Maroons.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 25.—Quarterback Pogue and his associates from the University of Illinois defeated the football eleven from Indiana University here this afternoon. The score which was ten to nothing hardly represents the fierceness with which the game was played.

Twice Indiana held Illinois on her own one-yard line and once carried the ball to Illinois four-yard line, only to lose it on downs. Indiana showed the loss of Captain Davis, who was injured in the Chicago game, in the defensive work of the line. Indiana executed two forward passes which netted 35 yards each while Illinois failed on all attempts to use it. Two governors—Dunne of Illinois and Ralston of Indiana—witnessed the game. They occupied a box located between the Indiana and Illinois sections, built especially for them.

The Illinois executive was immensely pleased over the result while the Indiana governor was prompt in extending congratulations.

Illinois Appears Stronger
Illinois appeared the stronger of the two teams in the first period. Rowe kicked off over Indiana's goal and the later after bringing the ball to the twenty yard line lost it on downs. Illinois then carried the ball to Indiana's ten yard line where the Hoosiers held them down. A forward pass netted Indiana sixteen yards but Illinois soon regained it on downs. Indiana blocked an attempt for a field goal from the forty yard line and the period ended with the ball in Illinois possession near the middle of the field.

Twice in the second period Illinois carried the ball to Indiana's one yard line by a series of delayed passes and line bucks. Each time Indiana fighting every inch of the way, held their opponents for downs and Scott punted to safety. Scollinger and Rue made most of the gains for Illinois. The period ended with the ball on Indiana's 30-yard line. The play of Fleming and Voss on the defensive saved Indiana from being scored on. In the third period Pogue for Illinois made the spectacular runs and carried the ball across the Indiana goal line for a touchdown. Rowe kicked goal.

In the early part of the period, Indiana, by a series of short runs by Trout, Erhart, and Fleming and a forward pass from Whitaker to Krause, which netted 35 yards, carried the ball to Illinois' four yard line. The Hoosiers were unable to penetrate the visitors' defense and Illinois regained the ball. The period ended with the ball in Illinois possession on their own 40-yard line.

Soon after the opening of the fourth period, Illinois was forced to punt and Indiana got the ball on their own 30-yard line. A forward pass Whitaker to Decker, netted the Crimson players 35 yards.

Indiana failed to complete two forward passes and Decker failed at an attempt to make a place kick from the thirty yard line. Illinois carried the ball to the center of the field and was held for downs. Indiana kicked to Pogue on his own 40-yard line and the player made a good run to the Indiana five yard line. Here Indiana braced and held Illinois and Rowe kicked a field goal from the 18-yard line.

Fleming kicked off to Pogue and Illinois with a series of line plunges returned the ball to Illinois 30-yard line where the game ended.

Knox College Defeats Cornell.
Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 25.—Outweighed fifteen pounds to the man, Knox played open football today and defeated Cornell 20 to 7. The Iowans were baffled by the fancy plays and heavy field work. Gates and Rosson, the Knox backs, were the best ground gainers for the victors.

Dartmouth Outplays Tigers.
Princeton, N. J., Oct. 25.—Dartmouth fulfilled expectations this afternoon when it won a six to nothing game from Princeton in a contest devoid of real football because of a waterlogged field. Fumbling was the most prominent feature of the game. The lone score of the game came after the Tiger goal had been threatened once. Llewellyn, who had replaced Ghee for Dartmouth, noticed the closely drawn defense of the Tigers and he called for a delayed pass formation and took the ball himself around Princeton's right end without interference. Princeton was clearly outplayed.

Nebraska Has Close Call.
Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 24.—The Haskell Indians, an aggregation of players quick as lightning and with a line nearly as heavy as that of Nebraska, sprung the surprise of the football season on Nebraska here today, holding the local eleven to a 7 to 6 score, only missing the tie in the score by failure at goal kicking following a touchdown.

Iowa Overwhelms Northwestern.
Evanston, Ill., Oct. 25.—The University of Iowa overwhelmed the Northwestern university on the football field here today, downing the Purple 78 to 6. The Iowa backs carried the ball almost at will through the Northwestern defense and only frequent penalization kept the score from being even more one-sided.

Hightower of Northwestern was the only purple player who could accomplish anything. In the third quarter he raised the fighting spirit of high team so that they held the Iowans, who had a 41-point lead.

In the last period Northwestern got the ball on Iowa's 35-yard line on an intercepted forward pass and Hightower, on another forward pass, scored the purple's only touchdown.

Iowa made its first touchdown in less than a minute of play. McGinnis made five touchdowns, Gross four and Dick one. Breckner kicked seven goals from touchdowns and McGinnis one. Stromberg kicked goal for Northwestern when Hightower made the Purple's only score.

Purdue's Hopes Are Wrecked.
Marshall Field, Chicago, Oct. 25.—Peter Russell, Maroon quarterback, wrecked Purdue's hopes for the conference championship and earned a place among the University of Chicago's immortals. His two drop kicks scored the only points in a hard fought game and the Maroons won 6 to 0.

Poor generalship was partly responsible for the defeat of the Boilermakers. The last part of the last quarter was practically a procession toward Chicago's forward pass after forward pass moving the ball from one end of the field to the other, but there was not time for a touchdown. Had Coach Smith's men tried the pass early in the game they might have made a better showing but they depended on straight football and Stagg's players stopped that game.

Oliphant and Applegate dashed themselves in vain against the Maroon line. The result of the game and the tie to which Purdue held Wisconsin last week makes Chicago favorite for premier honors in the "Big Nine."

Forward passes were more successful as ground gainers for Chicago. The first quarter was less than five minutes old when a long pass put the Maroons within 20 yards of Purdue's goal whence Russell booted the ball over. Norgren's long punts were big factors in driving the ball into the visitors' territory and keeping it there, as it was kept most of the time. He outkicked O'Brien and Oliphant.

Over the protest of every Chicago player Vruwink, the Maroon end, was put out of the game in the first quarter for "roughing" an opponent. Aside from that, the battle, though hard fought, was free from roughness and there were no serious injuries.

Vanderbilt Loses, 33 to 2.
Dudley Field, Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 25.—Battering Vanderbilt's line for repeated gains and circling the Commodore's ends freely, the University of Michigan today defeated the local squad by a score of 33 to 2.

The triumph of the west over the south was never in doubt. Both on offense and defense the Michigan players surpassed their lighter opponents.

Quinn, Bastian, Meade and Huggett, backs for Michigan, repeatedly struggled down the field carrying two or three of Vanderbilt's players with them. At other times they cast the local players aside at will.

Minnesota Wins Easily.
Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 25.—Minnesota defeated North Dakota 30 to 0 today, practically all of the scoring resulting from straight line plunging. McAlmon, Matten and Shaughnessy had little difficulty in breaking up the North Dakota defense in the initial period and two touchdowns were scored in the first seven minutes of play.

North Dakota strengthened wonderfully in the third period and sprung a surprise by introducing a series of freak formations that kept the Gophers searching for the ball and netted North Dakota consistent gains. Once in the third period and again in the fourth Minnesota's goal was in danger, but each time North Dakota lost the ball on downs. Minnesota attempted several forward passes, but most of them failed.

Pittsburgh Defeats Cornell.
Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Outplayed throughout the first half with the score 7 to 0 against it, the University of Pittsburgh football team turned the tables on Cornell with a vengeance in the latter part of the game today, winning by a score of 20 to 7. The field was muddy and all of the Pennsylvanians touchdowns were made on fakes.

Wisconsin Meets Defeat.
Madison, Wis., Oct. 25.—The University of Wisconsin met her first defeat in two years here today at the hands of Michigan Agricultural college by a count of 12 to 7.

From the start both teams played an aggressive game of higher football with the Aggies holding the long end throughout the battle. Wisconsin missed her best chance to score and win shortly before the end, when almost within a shadow of the enemy's goal Michigan intercepted a forward pass and staved off what seemed like a sure touchdown.

Both of the Aggies' touchdowns were scored in the second period and the Badgers counted in the third. The second touchdown for the Aggies resulted from a fumble near the goal posts which Scultz quickly took advantage of, running behind the posts he fell on the ball where it struck.

Navy Wins One Sided Contest.
Annapolis, Md., Oct. 25.—The Navy football team overwhelmed the Maryland Agricultural College eleven today by the score of 76 to 0.

Relying almost entirely on their greater weight the advantage of which was increased by the muddy field and slippery ball the midshipmen stuck for the most part to crushing line plunges.

Harvard Wins Easy Game.
Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 25.—Pennsylvania State College's first invasion of the Crimson gridiron in many years proved unsuccessful today, Harvard winning with comparative ease 29 to 0.

The Crimson team scored four touchdowns and a field goal and captured the ball on downs on the five yard line. Man made a Man score by a fifty yard run around right end. Brickley carried the ball from the 35-yard line for another touchdown through center on a fake kick formation. His field goal was from the 35-yard line. Harvard was penalized for a total of 88 yards.

Marshall Saves Game.
Philadelphia, Oct. 25.—Marshall, the best quarterback of the University of Pennsylvania football eleven, saved the red and blue from a defeat at the hands of the Carlisle Indians on Franklin field this afternoon when he ran eighty yards for a touchdown after receiving the kickoff in the third quarter and then kicked goal. The red skins had scored seven points in the second period and thus the contest resulted in a 7 to 7 tie.

Missouri Defeats Ames.
Ames, Iowa, Oct. 25.—Playing straight football in the three first quarters in the face of the tricky attack by Missouri, Ames went down to the first defeat in the history of two institutions on the same college field this afternoon. The final score was 21 to 13. Ames scored on a drop kick in the first quarter. Missouri scored three touchdowns in the last three quarters, all by Lake. Tiernan, the cyclone right half plunged the Tiger line and pulled himself through 30-yards of fighting Missouri territory in the third period for Ames' only touchdown.

In the last period Ames realized the hopelessness of a line smashing game and tried to get into Missouri ground with the forward pass but the Tiger defense reduced nearly every attempt to failure.

Army Wins Hard Battle.
West Point, N. Y., Oct. 25.—The Army defeated Tufts here today in a hard fought game by a score of 2 to 0.

The Cadets score came in the third quarter when Markoe and Wynne threw Gurven behind his own goal line for a safety.

Teams Play in Quagmire
New Haven, Conn., Oct. 25.—With Yale field a quagmire and a pelting rain falling during the entire game, Washington and Jefferson held Yale to a nothing to nothing score today. The playing conditions could scarcely have been worse and both teams played below par in consequence.

"Made in Jacksonville Show."

An exhibition of all products made in Jacksonville is now being promoted by the Chamber of Commerce to be held during the week of Dec. 8th to 13th at the same time as the Morgan County Farmers' Institute and Poultry show exhibition. Arrangements have been made to hold all these big events on South Main street in the Armory, Degen hall and the Samples building.

There are 125 possible concerns and individuals who make things here in Jacksonville and yet the fact is not appreciated by our own people. Such an exhibition is not only a benefit to local manufacturers, but it is an educational value for the people.

A committee will soon be at work soliciting those who should make an

MR. WOLKE MAY ACCEPT SCHOOL BUILDING CONTRACT

Expressed Willingness To Clerk of Board of Education Saturday—Does Not Want Any Litigation.

Although as stated in the Journal Saturday John Wolke who made the lowest bid for the proposed 8th grade building intended to notify the clerk of the board of education of his intention or desire to withdraw his bid, the situation changed somewhat Saturday. Instead of presenting a formal notice or demand upon city clerk Pyatt, for the withdrawal or return of his bid, Mr. Wolke in conversation with Mr. Pyatt stated that he had about decided that he would accept the contract if the board awarded it to him on the bid presented.

In the course of the conversation Mr. Wolke said to the clerk of the board that in order to avoid any trouble about the matter, and the possible expense of litigation that he was inclined to think it would be the better course to take the contract if awarded to him. He said that in his figures he has honestly made the error of $2,700, to which he had called attention but that he recognized that it was not within the province of the board to grant him permission to change his figures. He said that he believed by acting as foreman himself in superintending the brick work for the building instead of turning that whole matter over to a sub-contractor that he would be able to effect a material saving and that by guarding other expenses carefully he might be able to complete the contract without the serious loss which the error otherwise would naturally mean.

Mr. Wolke is an experienced man with reference to brick work and is understood to be entirely competent in this line as well as in carpentry to which he has devoted his particular attention. Moreover, he is considered one of the most capable and successful of local contractors and a number of large erection jobs in Jacksonville are to his credit.

Just what action the board will take in the matter will not be known until the meeting of the board which is scheduled for Monday night. It is understood however that the board has taken the matter up with local attorneys in order to be advised just what is the proper and legal way for them to proceed. A written opinion will be furnished by the board's attorneys in time for the session Monday night. It is understood too that while not having at the time thoroughly looked up the matter that the attorneys gave an off hand opinion that there was but one thing for the board properly to do and that to proceed and award the contract to Mr. Wolke on the basis of the bid presented.

The specifications on which the bid was made provide that the board should have 10 days in which to accept the bid or return the certified check, and bid, to the contractor. It was argued that the bidder was asked to file a certified check for 5 per cent of the amount of the bid for the very purpose of making certain that the contract would be accepted if awarded upon the basis of the bid made. Some of the board members at least are of the opinion that no right of the board has been forfeited from the fact that contract was not immediately awarded when the bids were received. On receiving and opening such bids it is almost always necessary to check up and examine certain details and in deferring the final action for a few days from the date of receiving bids the board simply took the usual course. However, as Mr. Wolke has practically signified his willingness to accept the contract on the basis of the bid presented it now seems likely that legal advice on the matter will not be necessary. If the board is satisfied with the reliability of the contractor and he is willing to accept the contract on the bid made which is about $3,600 lower than the next nearest contractor it now seems likely that nothing will interfere with speedy action in the 8th grade building matter.

Ask to see samples of Beaver board. It is light, durable and slightly and you put it to a thousand uses. Crawford's.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IS KEEPING HANDS OFF

Business Men's Organization Makes Statement That It Is Taking No Part In Local Option Contest.

To the Editor of the Jacksonville Journal: For the benefit of every citizen who is informed or misinformed we desire to make this statement.

The Chamber of Commerce is an organization to advance the civic, commercial, agricultural and educational interests of Jacksonville and adjacent community. Such a task is big enough for any organization.

Statements have been published sufficiently to show that we are in no way identified with the Jacksonville Business Men's Protective Association. We would greatly appreciate it if inspired writers all commerce will positively take no sides in the present controversy. If the Chamber of Commerce name is new to many of us it is either reaction on communications would please desist to connect, contrast, or confuse the names of these two organizations.

Once and for all times during the Local Option Campaign this explanation should suffice to inform the person who does or does not read the papers that the Chamber of Commerce name is new to so many of us it is either a reflection on the organization or on the people who read the papers to inform themselves of what we the civic organization representing the interests of our city is trying to do. We cater to no individuals, cliques or factions in our body politic. We have many members who vary in their views and consequently we must be fair to all of them.

CENTENNIAL OF CHATEAUGUAY.

Montreal, Oct. 25.—The inhabitants of the town of Chateaugay, a short distance south of Montreal, have completed preparations for a big celebration tomorrow on the occasion of the centennial anniversary of the battle of Chateaugay. The battle was fought October 26, 1813, when Col. de Salaberry and 300 French-Canadians defended the town against an army of 6,000 Americans, commanded by Gen. Wade Hampton. The battle was important in its consequences, since it prevented a junction of General Hampton's forces with the American northern army under General Wilkinson, and thereby frustrated a projected attack on Montreal.

GOVERNMENT NOW FOSTERS ORGANIZING OF BOYS PIG CLUBS

Purpose is To Increase Size and Quality of Porkers—Result of Success of Boys' Corn Clubs.

Washington, Oct. 25.—The department of agriculture has its Boys' Corn club and its Girls' Canning club, and now comes the Boys' Pig club, being organized in the south for the purpose of increasing the supply of pork and encouraging good breeding of hogs. Already clubs have been organized in Alabama and Louisiana, and a club organization has been started in Georgia. It is the purpose of the officials of the department to organize clubs in every southern state.

Result of Corn Clubs.
The idea of the organization started with the Farmers' Co-operative demonstration branch of the department and has been carried on with the co-operation of the animal husbandry division of the bureau of animal industry. The organization is an off-shoot of the Boys' Corn club, which has an organization in every southern state and which has been the means of producing record-breaking yields of corn. The pig club, when thoroughly organized, will, it is expected, work hand in hand with the corn club. The boys of the latter will produce the corn and the boys of the newly organized association will see to it that the pigs are produced to eat the corn.

Purpose is Announced.
In connection with the organization of the pig club the department makes the following statement:

"In organizing the Boys' Pig club it is the purpose of the department to establish clubs in every southern state. The animal husbandry division is co-operating with the farmers' co-operative demonstration office in the bureau of plant industry and has already established clubs in Alabama and Louisiana, and the movement is under way in Georgia. The organizing is being done by the officials of the farmers' co-operative demonstration force, and the animal husbandry agents are instructing and demonstrating how to handle the stock and to breed a superior type of pigs.

"It is the purpose of the department to have every member of the club encourage not only an increased production of the swine family but a better breed of pigs than is being raised at present. It is a serious purpose the officials of the department are engaged in—one that is aimed at the high cost of living.

"The production of pork is not keeping pace with the increased population and something must be done to harmonize these two elements. If each member of the club—and they will be growing it is expected all the time—will see to it that one more pig and a better pig is produced each year then a long step will have been taken in meeting the ever growing chasm between pork production and increased population."

BEST WAGON AXLE.

8610 pounds was the weight shown on city scales of sand and men hauled over the streets by Mr. Ralph Crabtree's fine team on the celebrated Winona wagon with a piece of the axle cut out. It is so constructed with the patent outer bearings so that all weight is taken at shoulder of axle, which prevents wheels from spreading out on ground. The Winona also has iron clad hubs and oil grooved felloes. Hal Bros., the South Main street implement men, sold Winona wagons to following farmers: William C. Baxter, Charles Hedden, James Johnson, George Thompson, William Harrison and W. D. Harkleroad.

Suits to please the boys; prices to please the parents; watch free, at Garland & Co.'s.

The train leaves the C. & A. station at 9:45 a. m., returning at 5:15.

REPUBLICANS HOLD CONFERENCE ON ELECTION PROSPECTS

Encouraging Reports Made From Various Voting Precincts—Conditions Seem Favorable For Mr. Megginson.

A meeting of members of the Morgan County Republican Central committee and of Republicans generally was held Saturday afternoon in the Yates building on West State street. The call for the meeting was issued by M. L. Hildreth as chairman and F. E. McDougall as secretary of the committee, and as indicated the invitation to be present was not limited to members of the committee.

The call to order came at 1 o'clock when Chairman Hildreth announced that the purpose of the gathering was to hear reports from the various voting precincts of the county and to talk over election prospects in a general way. Practically every person present made brief remarks and all were of a very encouraging character. Particular attention was paid to seeking information as to the exact political condition and feeling in the various precincts. A number of the speakers frankly stated that while the normal Republican vote was greatly divided at last election on account of the progressive movement that they believed that in the coming election that the vote would show that a great majority of Republicans were again lined up with the old party. Several men were present who stated that they had voted for Roosevelt in the last national election and had been affiliated with the progressive movement to that extent but they felt that the particular reason for which they advocated the Roosevelt cause was now past and that they wanted it understood that they were for the Republican candidate steadfastly.

The tenor of all the speeches made expressed confidence in the Republican party as being the political organization which can in a permanent way best take care of the country's needs. The remarks too were of a kind to give great encouragement to Peter D. Megginson, the Republican candidate for county commissioner. Altogether it was a very enthusiastic meeting and as a general proposition it is a difficult matter to get up much enthusiasm in a political way when the offices to be filled at election are very few.

Among those present, all of whom made their remarks more or less brief, were M. L. Hildreth, Peter D. Megginson, A. L. French, J. T. Ward, T. H. Backthorpe, W. H. Mosely, J. M. Swales, Roy Lawson, J. M. Beerup, W. H. Paschall, Ed. Maltory, J. A. Crum, Joseph D. Goveia, John Minter, F. L. Gregory, William Kastrop, Richard Dye, C. Justus Wright, Allison Thomason, George Kimber, B. F. Jones, F. L. Sharpe, W. H. Crum, Edward Covington, Simeon Fernandes, J. H. Danskin, S. W. Nichols and F. M. Coard. Mr. Coard, who is seeking appointment as a minority representative on the state board of arbitration, asked endorsement by the committee and Chairman Hildreth said the members of the committee would gladly sign the recommendations.

A PECULIAR DECISION.

A traveling salesman yesterday showed a Journal reporter an instruction from the house. It was to the effect that the interstate commerce commission had decided that a traveling salesman could not sell or give to his customers any of his goods or samples directly unless they had been sent to him from the house to the place in which he was at the time of giving or selling. In all other cases the salesman must either send the samples or goods to the house and have them re-shipped or else he must take them to his own home and ship them to the intended recipient.

It has been a custom of salesmen to sell or give customers travel worn samples and other articles, but it seems that it cannot be done legally except as above described.

The World's Greatest Beauties

SINCE THE DAWN OF HISTORY

HAVE HAD BEAUTIFUL HAIR

In all affairs of weight, whether of war, politics or business, beautiful women have always exerted a mighty influence. This subservience of the world to feminine loveliness is seldom admitted by the sterner sex, but it is there just the same and no one realizes this better than man, mere man. He is a daily worshiper at the shrine of Venus and a passively willing prisoner to her charms. This condition has existed since the world began, until, to the lord of creation, paying regular and magnificent tribute to beauty has become a habit.

In the early days, to enhance the pristine beauty of their hair, the women resorted to the use of fragrant ointments. Much care was given to the hair, hours being devoted daily to the manipulation of mi-lady's tresses by her slaves and hand maidsens.

Today the girl or woman, desiring to appear always at her best and to have healthy luxuriant hair, relies on:

PROTEIN	22 to 24 per cent.
FIBRE	7 to 9 per cent.

WHAT IS "SUPREME CHICKEN FOOD?"

We are also manufacturing, under state license, the best brand of hog food on the market, known as "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD." It is far superior to any brand of hog food on the market today. It is guaranteed under the Pure Food & Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906, Serial No. 47673. Guaranteed analysis as follows:

CRUDE PROTEIN	32.50 to 60 per cent.
CRUDE FIBRE	1 to 3 per cent.
PHOSPHATE	10 to 12 per cent.

WHAT IS "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD TANKAGE?"

It is a dark colored granular meal, made from meat residues, and it supplies the protein and phosphates necessary for compounding a balanced ration in most economical and palatable form.

It contains phosphates in proper proportion to insure strength of bone and frame work. In the corn belt bone development is a matter of serious consideration.

It is not a substitute for corn, but a small quantity fed in connection with corn or other grains gives a balanced ration.

It is the most economical source of digestible protein known, containing twice as much protein as oil-meal and five times as much as middlings, shorts, shipstuffs, or alfalfa meal.

TANKAGE is recommended by all leading experiment stations. It is packed in one-hundred-pound burlap sacks, plainly marked "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD." Analysis as above. It is the ideal feed to balance rations.

WHAT "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD" TANKAGE DOES.

It develops bone and muscle in young pigs and makes them grow. It matures a hog for market in two and three months quicker than corn alone, thereby saving one-third of the feed bill, one-third of the labor, one-third of the risk, increasing profits one-third.

It grows better proportioned hogs, more meat, and more fat, hence market-topper hogs. "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD" Tankage fed hogs ship well with small shrink. While in nowise a medicine, it so fortifies and strengthens the system against attacks of disease germs that "SURE FATTEN HOG FOOD" TANKAGE fed hogs are universally healthy. Manufactured by the

LETTER FROM BERLIN.

(By Associated Press)

In view of the promising results attained in the treatment of cancer, more than a dozen German cities have voted money for the purchase of radium and its sister product, mesothorium. The appropriations range as high as $50,000 at Leipzig and $38,000 at Berlin. Munich is the only large city not yet in the market. The city council having postponed its intended appropriation on the ground that speculation had raised the price of radium artificially and exorbitantly. The total amount voted throughout the empire is already about $600,000 more than half the value of the world's total supply of radium at present.

Public interest in these substances has created a rare opportunity for swindlers, and radium promoters are already in the field. The German financial papers recently warned the public against an adventurer who has already tried to exploit the English and French markets with a pretended radium company and is now flooding Germany with circulars advising investment in the stock of a similar concern. He has obtained lists of possible investors and promises the customary enormous profits.

Radium institutes are springing up in every important German city, but the merits of the treatment are as usual overshadowed by a mass of extravagant claims. Among the really scientific developments reported is the application of radium and mesothorium to diseases of the ear. This is the subject of an article by Dr. Hugel in the Munich Medical Weekly. Dr. Hugel's experiments have extended over only six months, too short a time for positive general declarations, but he has treated ossification of the eardrum and diseases of the labyrinth, ailments which have hitherto defied medical treatment, and in a number of cases noted a marked improvement. The treatment is painless, and as only a small quantity of mesothorium—five milligrammes—is required, it is not expensive.

In the same publication Prof. Dr. Werner of the Samaritaner hospital at Heidelberg reports on an alternative treatment of cancer by a combination of chemical and radioactive treatment. He uses as the chemical element cholin, a product of the decomposition of lecithin, one of the fatty substances found in the body. It was observed about a year ago that under the influence of radium rays the lecithin of the body tended to change into cholin. This led to experiments with the introduction of cholin into the body, thereby imitating in a chemical way one of the effects of radioactive treatment. Prof. Werner has now treated several hundred cases and reports in a considerable percentage decided improvement. In some instances the complete disappearance of the growth under treatment has been noted, though only time can tell whether actual cures have been secured.

One of the advantages claimed by Prof. Werner for his method of treatment is that the amount of radium required is greatly reduced.

Emperor William has a new diplomatic traveling companion in Count George von Wedel, well known in Washington as first secretary of the German embassy there from 1908 to 1911, and now accredited as minister to the court of Weimar. On his travels, hunting trips, voyages to Corfu and Norway, and the like, the emperor is always attended by a representative of the diplomatic service, whose duty it is to translate all dispatches from the foreign office, keep his majesty informed upon the affairs of the world and act as his diplomatic adviser on any point of foreign policy which may develop during his absence from Berlin. The position is naturally a very responsible one, and the holder of it brought into the closest personal touch with the emperor, has every chance of a brilliant career in the diplomatic service.

Klingenberg, a town in Southern Germany, on the river Main, may lay claim to many of the characteristics of a modern Utopia. It not only supplies every resident with well paid work and relieves him of all his municipal and state taxes, but gives him an annual allowance of $400 for pin money, with occasional gifts for holiday celebrations. The fortunes of Klingenberg, which has about 1,700 inhabitants, are founded upon its deposits of clay, which on account of its fire resisting properties is widely exported, particularly to the United States.

The deposits are worked by the municipality directly at an annual profit of $100,000 and every Klingenberg is entitled to a position as miner. The fortnightly pay day is observed as a holiday, without detriment to the regular German holidays, on which an extra payment of a dollar to a dollar and a quarter is made to every citizen to enable him to celebrate properly.

To prevent the flooding of this ideal place of residence by Germans from all parts of the empire, it has been found necessary to limit rights of citizenship. No one is admitted without a payment of $425 to the municipal treasury. More favorable terms are granted, however, to men taking wives in the town.

Long current reports of strained relations between Emperor William and his son, the crown prince, found support in the absence of the crown prince on the occasion of the emperor's visit to Dantzig and Langfuhr early this month. On his return from a hunting trip to his great estate at Rominten, the emperor made a detour to call upon the regiments of the Life Guard Hussar brigade, of which the crown prince commands the first regiment. Every other officer of the brigade, including Prince Friedrich Karl of Prussia, the brigade commander, the corps commander, and the inspector general of the eastern army corps gathered to welcome his majesty, some of them sacrificing their annual leaves for the purpose. The crown prince, however, er, departed unceremoniously a few days earlier for a hunting trip in the Bavarian highlands.

It is reported that the crown prince is more and more dissatisfied with his exile in the eastern provinces of the empire, a displeasure which has been intensified by the apparently inspired reports printed from time to time than on the expiration of his tour of duty in command of a cavalry regiment he would be given an infantry regiment, likewise in the provinces, either at Dantzig or at Breslau, an industrial town in the center of the Silesian mining and manufacturing district and many, many hours from the delights and comforts of Berlin. Court gossip a short time before the emperor's Langfuhr visit had it that the crown prince was making every endeavor to obtain a detail to the general staff at Berlin. But as his residence in Berlin would be an invitation to the dissatisfied and disgruntled in court, military and political life to gather around him and form that "crown prince clique" which tends to collect about every heir to the throne, indications are that the "exile" may be continued for a year or two longer.

What a Kansas Minister Has to Say

Rev. J. F. Milneak, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church at Wellington, Kansas, writes as follows:

"You ask for my opinion as a priest in regard to this great issue. First, let me say, I dislike prohibition intensely. In my mind it is all wrong, or at least it goes about that which it desires to accomplish altogether in the wrong way.

"To my mind prohibition is tantamount to moral weakness. I have seen a great deal of it, have watched its comings and goings and have even gone my best, as a just-minded man, to see reason in it.

"To me it stands weighed in the balance, and as a working factor even in that which it desires to accomplish or promote, found sadly wanting.

"I believe a nation of prohibitionists would be a nation of hypocrites. Prohibition breeds and fosters suspicion among neighbors. It means 'behind doors.' It means all that is not open and above board. It not only breeds a sort of secretiveness of one's actions, but worse still, it introduces a condition of espionage which is something repulsive to any free English-speaking citizen.

"I hate drunkenness; it is beastly, inexcusable; but I fear and loathe prohibition still more. I would rather see a sea of mine come home drunk (nearly as that would be) than to think my boy was a sneak and a liar. You can cure and sober a drunkard. Many have been redeemed. But never yet have I known a sneak or a liar changed into a decent man.

"No, I hate prohibition intensely because, as I have said, it breeds dishonesty and lack of candor, and were my church—the Episcopal—to commit itself to such an unscriptural platform (as many 'churches' have) I would resign tomorrow, send in my vestments and go to work at something else.

"But there is one thing which two churches in America, and throughout the world, will never do—I refer to the Roman Catholic and Episcopal churches—and that is to take up this prohibition question as it now stands and is now managed. Indeed, one cannot be a prohibitionist and still believe in the inspiration of Holy Writ.

"Temperance is one thing (and it applies to all our appetites and desires); prohibition is quite another. The one is strength—the other weakness.

"After living some years in an anti-alcohol state I have come to the conclusion that the absence of the (license) saloon proper by no means abrogates or does away with drinking or drunkenness. It only seems to me to help the druggists grow rich on that pernicious 'signing a lie' as I call it when a man sneaks into a drug store and whispers what he wants—holds up his hand and swears. But to what? I myself, have been asked in a Kansas town of fifteen thousand, when I went into a drug store for a bottle of wine for Holy Communion, to sign a lie. So I refused to celebrate the Holy Sacrament until I could openly procure the wine without subterfuge.

"What more could I say? I might quote great men—Gladstone, Bismarck, Lincoln, back to Washington, and further yet, back to Cane's marriage feast. I feel that I am in excellent company, and in the society and companionship of the men who have made, or helped to make, the world what it is."

What Bishop Kelly Says:

Bishop Kelly To His Critics.

To the Editor of Saturday Night:

I have read with interest your last issue of Saturday Night, as I do every issue. I am sorry to be the innocent cause of bringing the ire of your lady correspondents upon you. But I want to prove an alibi. I can't recall that I said a single word about eugenics at the laying of the cornerstone of St. Joseph's Sanitarium or at any other time.

Please permit me to say now, that I hate to see the subject crucified between two such thieves as sterilization and sex-hygiene.

It is my candid opinion that you can't railroad eugenics into people any more than you can railroad prohibition into them, and a great many physicians think the same way.

There is a moral question at issue here. Clean living or morality can no more be brought about by law enacted than can scholarship be effected by the school teacher's rod. When anything goes wrong in a community, some people think they must have a new law to "prohibit" or "prevent". Most of us refuse to stampede at the cry of "fire." If more attention were given to God and His Ten Commandments and less to legislative lobbying we could get some place, some time.

In conclusion let me say that I advocate religion and moral teaching as the only means of producing clean birth. I am not in favor of the 57 varieties of eugenics, the "wild cat" brand included.

Pastor of St. Thomas Church, Ann Arbor.

Prohibition Will Bring the Liquor Into Homes, Where We Don't Want It, Says Archbishop Messner.

Archbishop Messner, of Milwaukee, is in favor of the regulation of the liquor industry, rather than absolute prohibition. "I do not believe we can reform men by law," said the archbishop in an interview. "Prohibition, according to many observers actually brings more liquor into the homes of the people than the open sale of intoxicants under proper police supervision. This is because in order to buy liquor under prohibition the people are compelled to purchase in larger quantities than is necessary for their immediate needs.

"There is no place like home" when you are on your way back from a vacation.

Believes That Prohibition Works Harm To a City.

Lynn, Mass.—The Rt. Rev. Mgr. A. J. Teelag, of St. Mary's Church, has made public announcement of the fact that he favors liquor licenses, and was opposed to the no-license system.

The no-license vote, he says, drives the sale of liquor into kitchen bar rooms and speak-easys, where women and children are more exposed to temptation, and liquor is also sold at all hours, is of a poorer quality, and furthermore no discrimination is shown.

He thinks prohibition in Maine is a failure, the same as it was in Massachusetts forty-five years ago. Dr. Thomas R. Slicer, pastor of All Souls Church, New York, delivered a lecture in Youngstown, Ohio, against closing saloons.

WHAT DO YOU THINK of a scoundrel that advocates liquor in Blind Pigs instead of a licensed saloon?

That's what the Anti-Saloon League is trying to do.

It really looks as if there were a few prominent ministers in the country who agree with the Rev. W. A. Gardner, that the best way to handle the liquor problem, is to regulate it. It is being done in other parts of the country and can be done here.

Bell System

The Germans have a happy way of noting down the birthdays and anniversary dates of their relatives, friends and acquaintances, and sending some little token each year at the right moment.

This is a practice worth adopting in the typical American way, extending congratulations over the telephone. Letters of congratulation lack the warmth of feeling that lies in the spoken word.

The Long Distance Telephone is easier, quicker and less formal than a letter. It is more considerate and carries the intimate personal touch so likely to be lost otherwise.

LETTER FROM LONDON.

By Associated Press.

During the last few weeks the society columns of the London papers have contained an ever increasing number of announcements of broken marriage engagements.

Many explanations have been put forward for this public admission of disagreements between engaged couples. The poet explains it by reasoning that spring is the time for love-making and fall for waning affections, and as the autumn months come along the lovers find that they are not suited to one another. Others, however, blame the feminist movement which now has to stand the brunt of so many attacks.

Charles Garvice, the novelist, advances this reason: "I do not mean," he said, "that all women and girls are suffragists, but it undoubtedly has led the girl of today to take a broader view of life than her mother did. The worldly minded mother fifty years ago, whose daughter was carefully guarded and secluded, had little difficulty in persuading the girl into a desirable marriage. Conditions have changed since then, and a girl is now brave enough, if she finds after having been engaged to a man for a few weeks that marriage would mean future unhappiness, to break the engagement."

The first week of November is to be observed by the suffragists of the united kingdom as a national week of prayer for woman suffrage. A call has been issued by various suffrage societies of the Catholic church, the Church of England, Jewish league, the Quakers, the Scottish churches, and other bodies.

The preamble invites the prayers of all suffragists "in the belief that the enfranchisement of women is in accordance with the will of God." The observance is proposed in the following manner: "Every individual suffragist who recognizes that the claim for the enfranchisement of women is based on justice and righteousness, and can be rightly and conscientiously pleaded before God, is asked to join in this week of prayer."

Four duchesses, two of them American, have taken up their residence at Roehampton, a one-time very fashionable suburb of London, and still considered one of the most desirable residence districts. As a result the town, or rather the colony which consists largely of big comfortable Victorian houses, each surrounded by some fifteen acres or more of ground, is looking forward to a return of its social importance. The duchesses who are responsible for this expected revival are their graces of Marlborough and Roxburghe, both Americans; the duchess of Westminster, who has left the more stately residences of her husband for a house in this district, and the recently widowed Millicent, duchess of Sutherland.

There is no prettier place on the borders of London than Roehampton. The nearest town is Putney, although as a matter of fact the whole district is a part of London, and at Roehampton one gets the first glimpse of the real country. The Roehampton club, which after Ranelagh and Hurlingham, is one of the fashionable clubs of England, is not far away.

The Grand Duke Michael-Alexandrovitch, the only brother of the Emperor of Russia, who aroused the displeasure of his royal brother by his marriage to a Viennese woman not of royal parentage, has taken up his residence in England, thus adding another to the interesting colony of exiles who have made this country their home.

The grand duke has taken a long lease of Knebworth house, the ancestral seat of Lord Lytton, near Hertford, and has already moved in. This makes the second Russian grand duke who because of a morganatic marriage has come to England to stay. The other, the Grand Duke Michael Michaelovitch, a first cousin one removed from the emperor, who married Countess Torby, has a home at Hempstead. His two daughters are almost as English as their neighbors, and his wife, still known as Countess Torby, has for years taken a prominent part in the social life of London and England generally.

The emperor's brother doubtless will be just as welcome in English society. His mother, the Dowager Empress Marie, is a sister of the queen mother of England, and despite the fact that his marriage did not please his family, it is not likely to make any difference to his social status in this country.

England's assessed income from abroad, as set forth in the income tax statistics of last year, reached the immense total of nearly $520,000,000, which represents capital of nearly $13,000,000,000. These incomes are derived from foreign mines, gasworks, waterworks, tramways, breweries, tea and coffee plantations, nitrate grounds, oil fields, land, financial, telegraph, cable, shipping and insurance companies, branches of banks and mercantile companies, mortgages on property, loans and deposits abroad and profits of all kinds arising from business done abroad by manufacturers, merchants, and commission agents. When it is realized how great is the capital invested by Englishmen abroad in these varied enterprises the immense aggregate income, outside that included in the income tax statistics, can be imagined.

According to the same statistics there are 214 persons in the united kingdom with an income of $275,000, which means that there are that many persons possessing a capital of about $5,000,000 each. But these are not the richest Englishmen. There are 68 with an income of $500,000 and over, 55 with an income of from $375,000 to $500,000, 37 with incomes of $325,000 to $375,000, and 56 with incomes of from $275,000 to $325,000. A furthermore, there are 4,143 persons with incomes of $50,000 and over, which means the possession of a capital of $1,000,000 or more. Consequently the total of persons in the country who possess at least $1,000,000 does not fall short of 4,571.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES.

The college is indebted to Mrs. H. A. Withee for four begonias which have been added to the flowers in the library.

The second year academy had a marshmallow toast on the campus Friday evening. A thoroughly good time was enjoyed by the class and a number of their guests.

The annual Founders' Day exercises occurred Thursday morning, with appropriate services in Music hall. The formal announcement of the gifts of portraits of the Rev. Dr. Peter Alters and William Mathers was made. Following the program, Dr. Sheridan, general secretary of the Epworth league, made the address of the day. The pastors and stewards from the Methodist churches in the Jacksonville district attended the services in a body.

Miss Nellie A. Knopf, of the School of Fine Arts, is spending a few days in Chicago, visiting the Art Institute.

Those planning to get Artists' course tickets, should call up the college office as soon as possible.

Conservatory Notes.
Mr. Edmund Hunger will give his annual piano recital on Tuesday evening, October 28, in Northminster church at 8 o'clock. The public are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Genevieve Clark Wilson is spending Sunday in Chicago. A Steinway A Grand piano has been placed by the Conservatory in Mrs. Ballard's studio.

YOU'RE BILIOUS AND COSTIVE!—CASCARETS

Sick Headache, Bad Breath, Sour Stomach, Measly Liver and Bowels Clogged—Clean Up Tonight.

Get a 10 cent box now. Furred tongue, bad taste, indigestion, sallow skin and miserable headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, sour gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and unseemly. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10 cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too. (Adv.)

EBENEZER EPWORTH LEAGUE

At a recent business meeting of the Ebenezer Epworth league a motion was passed to grant a date some time in the early part of December to the young men who wish to give an entertainment under the auspices of the league. They are Floyd Williamson and Roland Kiehl, students of the local high school. Mr. Williamson, who is a member of the Epworth league at Eoenezer, is a reader of considerable ability, and Mr. Kiehl a musician. The young men are planning to give a number of entertainments in surrounding communities during the winter.

OUR GUARANTEE

Is not a mere by-word, but means you will be exactly fitted to suit you, before you are required to take out or pay for your garment.

It also follows you as long as you wear the clothes. The cloth must be and wear as we represent it. The workmanship and shape retaining qualities must be satisfactory.

After you wear the garment and any fault appears, we want to, and will make it right or make a new garment.

Should there be any of our customers who have had any garments made by us in the past which have not proved satisfactory, let this be a request that you come in and make your complaint as strong as you please. We'll stay with you until you are satisfied.

This is what we mean by OUR GUARANTEE.

We are pleasing a lot of men with our winter suits and overcoats. The style we get into our clothes, our big stock and variety, help us do it. Our prices are astonishing--$15, $20, $25, $30.

SMALL FLUCTUATIONS DO NOT SHOW SENTIMENT

GENERAL DISPOSITION IS TO AWAIT MARKET DEVELOP-MENTS.

Advices from Mexico are Particularly Influential in Restricting Speculation—Expected Influence of U. S.
Steel Statement Tends to Ward Off
Further Attacks From the Bears.

(By Associated Press)
New York, Oct. 25.—The small fluctuations in stocks which occurred today gave no indication of the trend of speculative sentiment.
There was a general disposition to await developments of the next few days, as was shown by the lack of initiative on either side of the market. Recent advices from Mexico in particular were influential in restricting speculation. Estimates of the showing to be made by the United States steel corporation in its forthcoming quarterly statement were optimistic and the expected influence of this report tended to ward off further attacks from the bears at this time.

Damage to the corn crop in the southwest was reflected in Atchison's September statement which showed a decrease in net earnings of $241,-
000. Northwestern's net fell off
$106,000 while Northern Pacific made a gain of $229,000 in net revenue. The bank statement did not make as strong a showing as had been expected. There was a cash loss of $1,767,000 instead of the predicted gain of about that amount and a small shrinkage in the reserve.

Two Meals a Day Sufficient.
Though reticent on many matters, the British officers just released from a German fortress agreed in one matter. They found two meals a day sufficient. In England people are sometimes addicted to five—breakfast, lunch, tea, dinner and supper. The continental fashion is a snack for morning coffee, a midday meal and an evening meal. But when the great army of Xerxes was marching through Asia Minor, and city by city had to provide food for the day, the people thanked God that Xerxes and his army ate but once a day.

FAMOUS CONGRESS HALL RE-DEDICATED

NOTABLE GATHERING AT EXERCISES HELD IN PHILADELPHIA

President Wilson Shown Special Honors—Speaker Clark Delivered Oration of the Day—Important Questions Settled by Congress When Building Was Used By that Body.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 25.—Congress hall in Independence Square, the building where congress met from 1790 to 1800, was rededicated today after having undergone restorations to almost its original appearance. The president of the United States, members of the senate and house of representatives, ambassadors from foreign lands, governors of the original thirteen states, and leading citizens of Pennsylvania and Philadelphia participated in the ceremonies.

Philadelphia, as it has on many occasions when patriotic ceremonies were held at the historic square, practically took a holiday. The spectacular feature of the celebration was a big parade in which was represented the two arms of the national military service, the Pennsylvania national guard and patriotic societies whose members are descendants of those who helped either on the field of battle or in legislative halls to found the American government.

Champ Clark Gave Oration.

The exercises included an address by President Wilson and the oration of the day was Champ Clark, speaker of the national house of representatives.

President Wilson arrived here in the early afternoon and was officially welcomed by a large reception committee composed of some of the leading men of the city. With the president came Vice President Marshall, Speaker Clark, Chief Justice White and several associate justices, senators from the thirteen original states, and members of the house of representatives equal to the number of members sitting in congress in the latter part of 1799 and the beginning of 1800. Ambassadors and ministers of European and South American countries who had accepted invitations were in the Washington party, as were also the chaplains of the senate and house.

Luncheon was served at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel, at which were present the president and vice president, all the other invited guests from Washington, the governors of a number of states, and the several committees having charge of the ceremonies.

Great Parade Marches.

After the luncheon came the parade with President Wilson near the head of the line. In the procession were all the sailors and marines stationed at the Philadelphia navy yard, four companies of coast artillery from Fort Mifflin and Fort Mott on the Delaware river; a provisional brigade of the Pennsylvania cavalry commands attached to the state militia and the patriotic societies. The parade wound its way through the business section of the city to Independence Square, whence President Wilson was escorted to Congress hall. He was attended by the First troop, Philadelphia City cavalry, which has escorted every president who has visited Philadelphia since the time of George Washington.

As the president approached the historic hall a chorus of one hundred voices greeted the nation's chief executive with a patriotic song. Brass bands blared forth stirring music and the great crowd of people massed in and about the square cheered.

The old building is small, having a width of fifty feet and a depth of about seventy-five feet. For this reason only 750 persons could be crowded on the first floor where the lower house of congress met. The senate held its first sessions on the second floor. During the exercises President Wilson sat in the chair occupied by John Hancock when he presided over the continental congress at the signing of the Declaration of Independence. It was the first time the chair had been used since President Grant requested the privilege of sitting in it in 1876.

Outline of Program.

The invocation was delivered by Rev. Henry N. Couden, D. D., the chaplain of the house of representatives at Washington. This was followed by the singing of "Hall, Columbia."

Frank Miles Day of Philadelphia, read a brief statement concerning the restoration of the building. Mr. Day was chairman of the committee of architects having charge of the work. Then followed the delivery of the building to the city by the president of the Philadelphia chapter of the American Institute of Architects, John Hall Rankin, and its acceptance by the city.

The oration by Speaker Champ Clark and the address of President Wilson, who stood on the rostrum of the house where Washington delivered his farewell address, followed.

The exercises were closed with the singing of another patriotic song and the pronouncement of the benediction by the chaplain of the United States senate, the Rev. Forrest J. Prentiss.

As the ceremonies came to an end a salute of 21 guns was fired by the warships in the Delaware river.

Congress hall is a two story, single roofed building. It stands on the southeast corner of Sixth and Chestnut streets, or in other words, in the northwest corner of Independence Square. To the east of it is Independence hall.

Erected for County Purposes.

The building was constructed for county purposes. Two different purposes were raised to cover the expense. In colonial days it was the custom for the mayor of Philadelphia when going out of office to give a banquet. Instead of doing this one of the mayors contributed the cost of the feast, 150 pounds, to the building fund for the new county hall. The other money used in its construction came from the sale of an old jail and workhouse. Gangs of convicts known then as "wheelbarrowmen" began its construction in 1787 and it was completed in 1789.

On March 4, 1789, the assembly of Pennsylvania, acting for the county of Philadelphia, tendered the use of the building as the temporary home of congress. Congress, which was meeting then in New York, after much debate, fixed the permanent location of the national government on the banks of the Potomac, and Philadelphia, mainly through the efforts of Robert Morris and to the disappointment of New York, was decided upon as the seat of government for ten years. On December 6, 1790, as the third session of the first congress met in the hall, the first speaker of the house of representatives being Frederick Augustus Muhlenberg, George Washington was inaugurated in the hall on March 4, 1793, and in it he delivered his farewell address. John Adams was inaugurated as the second president of the United States within its walls and Thomas Jefferson was there sworn in as vice president.

Big Questions Settled by Congress There.

While congress sat in the hall the United States mint and the United States bank were established; Vermont, Kentucky and Tennessee were admitted to the union; the army and navy were reorganized on a permanent basis; Jay's historic treaty with England was considered and ratified; the whiskey insurrection was suppressed; the wars with the Indians were successfully conducted by Harmar, St. Clair and Wayne; the brief war with France was undertaken, and within its walls was officially announced the death of George Washington in 1799.

Congress (the first session of the sixth) sat in the hall for the last time on March 14, 1800. The last act of the senate was to request the president to instruct the attorney general to prosecute William Duane, editor of the Aurora, for a defamatory libel.

A committee of congress recommended an appropriation of $100,000 to Philadelphia as a compensation for the ten years' use of the building, but the expenditure was never authorized. After congress vacated it, the hall was used by the courts and the voices of all of the famous Philadelphia lawyers rang through its rooms. The building was abandoned by the courts in 1895, since which time several colonial societies have used it as headquarters. The structure was twice threatened by fire, in 1821 and in 1851, but little damage was done.

TO TRY VON KLEIN AGAIN.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 25.—The case of E. E. C. Von Klein, which attracted much attention at the time of his arrest in Chicago last winter, is on the calendar of Judge Morrow's court here for trial next Monday.

Von Klein is to be tried for the theft of $5,500 worth of diamonds from Ethel Newcombe of Portland, who was responsible for his arrest. A previous trial on the same charge resulted in a disagreement of the jury. Von Klein is also under indictment for alleged bigamy. He is said to be the son of a well known professor at Evanston, Ill. Prior to his present trouble he was engaged in the jewelry business in Minneapolis. It is reported that one of the women who was a principal witness for the prosecution at the first trial will not be on hand to testify against Von Klein at the approaching trial.

LOCAL POST OFFICE MAKES COUNT OF PARCEL POST MATTER

Figures Show Constant But Not Surprising Growth—Damaged Packages Are Few—Rate and Rules Are Quoted.

The local postoffice has been in the midst of a count of all parcels received for delivery and also for dispatch. This count was for the first fifteen days of October and was for the purpose of ascertaining the number of parcels, their weight and the amount of postage on them.

By the figures of this count it would seem that the local people are not availing themselves of the local feature of the system as much as was expected, although this count shows that there has been a steady increase of parcels from the very beginning. Very few parcels, considering the vast number handled, that are damaged or lost, and it has been found that the damaged parcels are almost invariably the result of careless packing and wrapping. Parcels to secure prompt and safe delivery must be securely packed, wrapped and tied.

During these fifteen days 4025 parcels were received and delivered at the local office. The total weight of all mail delivered being over 25,000 lbs. There were 8990 pieces of parcel post matter dispatched during the same time and weighing over 3500 lbs.

It is well for the public to remember the following rules with regard to the mailing and preparation of parcel post packages:

That the name and address of the sender as well as that of the addressee must be on the parcel. That it must be taken to the postoffice and not put in a collection box. That the package must be properly packed, wrapped and tied and that it is always best to use ink in writing the address.

That the postoffice employee is obliged to refuse a package that is not properly packed and wrapped. That the cost to insure a parcel with a valuation of $25 or less is only five cents and from $25 to $50 is only ten cents, and that all valuable parcels should be insured.

That it is to the interest of the sender to mail packages early during the holiday season.

That the C. O. D. feature enables you to send your parcels collect on delivery.

Don't wait until the last week to send your Christmas packages.

The following table gives the present parcels post rates:

All Blood Disorders Quickly Driven Away

Astonishing Results With the Greatest Blood Purifier Ever Discovered.

Strength, Power, Accomplishment are all Typified in S. S. S.

Some blood disorders become deeply rooted in the glands and tissues, and the mistake is made of resorting to drastic drugs. These only aggravate by causing other and worse troubles. A host of people know this to be true. They know from painful experience. To get right down into where the blood is vitiated requires S. S. S., the greatest blood purifier ever discovered. This remarkable remedy contains one ingredient, the active purpose of which is to stimulate the tissues to the healthy selection of its own essential nutriment and the medicinal elements of this matchless blood purifier are just as essential to well balanced health as the nutritious elements of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food. Not only this, but if from the presence of some disturbing poison there is a local or general interference of nutrition to cause boils, carbuncles, abscesses and kindred troubles, S. S. S. so directs the local cells that this poison is rejected and eliminated from their presence. Then, too, S. S. S. has such specific stimulation on these local cells as to preserve their mutual welfare and a proper relative assistance to each other. In a very brief time S. S. S. has the reconstructive process so under control that remarkable changes are observed. All eruptive places heal, mysterious pains and aches have disappeared, and from head to foot there is a conscious sensation of renewed health. From the fact that S. S. S. is purely a botanical preparation, it is accepted by the weakest stomach and has great tonic influence. Not one drop of drugs or minerals is used in its preparation. Ask for S. S. S. and insist upon having it. And if you desire skillful advice upon any matter concerning the blood and skin write to The Swift Specific Co., 205 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Do not allow some zealous clerk to larrip the atmosphere in eloquence over something "Just as good" as S. S. S. Beware of all counterfeits.

CELEBRATE THEIR TENTH
WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Richardson Entertained Large Company of Friends Saturday.

Saturday Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Richardson of the Point neighborhood entertained a large number of relatives and friends at a regular family reunion. It was also the tenth anniversary of their wedding though that fact they meant to keep a secret so as not to have the friends bring presents. The affair was all that could be asked and great good cheer prevailed throughout. The time was also propitious as several sisters from a distance were in the county and able to attend which made the occasion all the more agreeable. The day was most happily spent in various social ways and greatest good cheer prevailed as might have been expected. The capacious noise rang with the mirth and good cheer of the ones present and all was happy.

As already suggested it was the tenth anniversary of the wedding of the host and hostess and they didn't mean it should be known but somehow the fact crept out and a number of the guests contributed toward buying a fine silver casserole which was presented Mr. and Mrs. Richardson by George Beckman with very appropriate remarks. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson responded expressing their sincere appreciation of the gift and love for the givers.

Of course, any one who has eaten at that home knows the generous good cheer so lavishly dispensed there and on this occasion all was a success and the culinary efforts of Mrs. Richardson and her assistants received great praise. As the shades of evening drew nigh the guests departed with many good wishes for Mr. and Mrs. John V.

The following were guests present. Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson, Jacksonville, parents of Mrs. Richardson; Joseph Wilson, her brother, of the Point neighborhood and his wife; while the ladies mentioned next were her sisters: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rawlings and children, Woodson; Mr. and Mrs. George Beckman, Pisgah precinct; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richardson and son, Stafford, Kansas; Mrs. John Riley, Stafford, Kansas; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fawcett, Jacksonville; Mrs. Walter Wood, Pisgah.

The ladies next mentioned were nieces of Mrs. Richardson: Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Cox, Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lukeman, east of the city; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Goltra, California; Mr. and Mrs. William Mortimer and children, Woodson. The following also were guests: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barrows, southeast of city; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tendick, Point; Aunt Frances Rawlings Woodson; Mrs. Sarah Bromley, Manketo, Kansas.

The large dining room accommodated two long tables at which all fifty guests sat at once and it was a fine sight. After dinner remarks were made by Mr. Beckman, Mr. Mortimer and others.

COATS, COATS, COATS. ALL KINDS OF NEW COATS, VERY REASONABLE, ON SALE AT HER-
MAN'S.DECEPTION OFTEN PRACTICED
IN SELLING FURS

Purchasers Take no Risk in Buying High Grades or Medium Qualities From Reliable Houses—Irregular Channels Dangerous.

In the window of an attractive little shop at a fashionable resort there hung a pretty set of white moulton with this large placard: "Silver Fox Set $15.00." Another placard gave the price in London—something like $75.00—the cost of importation (with the duty calculated on the wrong percentage) and the estimated cost of this "silver fox" set if purchased in the ordinary way.

The set was probably bought by some woman so unacquainted with even the names of furs as to mistake a nicely dressed piece of goat skin for silver fox. Back in her own town she would grow suspicious and possibly take the set to a merchant of her acquaintance who would tell her discreetly that she had been deceived, and possibly add a little advice on buying furs from unknown sources. In time the incident would reach a newspaper writer who would prepare another exciting article on the deceptions of the fur trade.

This is a typical example of a fraudulent sale of furs. There was the credulous purchaser, the irresponsible merchant and the attractive appearing low-cost article, which after all, was worth quite all that was paid for it. Note carefully that the purchaser was only deceived, not robbed.

A genuine purchaser of silver fox would have laughed at the sign, for with a few exceptions costly furs are bought by rich people who have an excellent general idea of values. At an exhibition of rare silver foxes last winter in New York it was specially noted that all intending purchasers and many merely curious visitors had an excellent idea of the relative values of the skins, and all wanted the very choicest specimens, which they were fully able to select for themselves.

There is practically no deception practiced in furs of high value which are carried only by influential houses that could not afford to misrepresent their merchandise. If you have the price of Russian sables, genuine black fox or an ermine evening coat you may be sure that any firms who have them in stock will deal fairly with you.

In medium grades of furs there is one precaution—avoid all irregular channels of sale. Sales in hotel parlors, shops at resorts or temporarily rented stores are safe only for the trained expert in furs who would never think of looking in such places for anything he really wanted. It is a regular business to open these fly-by-night fur sales in one city after another and advertise largely the incredibly low prices for which these "high grade" furs can be bought.

RIBBONS! RIBBONS! RIBBONS! We are pleased to announce the arrival of several big cases of plain and fancy ribbons which had been delayed by the silk workers' strike. The lot includes all the new plain shades as well as some beautiful fancies of French make—dainty designs in figured styles, printed warps, brocades, etc.; also a lot of Christmas and holiday ribbon novelties which show how well these ribbons work up.
